In Defense of SEC Whistleblower Short Sellers: They Deserve to Have Their Cake and Eat It Too

The position that short sellers should be denied the benefits of their critically important whistleblowing efforts is short-sighted and contrary to the notions of our capitalistic markets. Moreover, it will serve only to disincentive a vital constituency of the SEC Whistleblower Program, which, in turn, will degrade the effectiveness of the SEC's enforcement program.

SEC whistleblowers are responsible for enforcement actions with more than $2.5 billion in monetary sanctions.

With successful SEC whistleblower cases, the SEC has awarded more than $735 million to 127 whistleblowers since issuing its first whistleblower award in 2012.
